Louisville Manufactures-Bagging and Bale Rope. The cultivation of hemp in Kentucky, and its conversion into baling stuff, cordage, twine, &c., form an important item in the accounts of the agricultural products and manufactures of the State. Until within a few years past bagging and rope have been made exclusively by hand, and a large amount of labor, chiefly that of negroes, was employed in that way, in many of the counties in the interior of the State, as well as in the city. Of the hand-spun and hand-loom articles sent to market, a large portion was of nferior quality, thin light, and having scarcely sufficient strength and body to confine the cotton after baling it. As there were many qualities, so there were a great variety of prices, and buyers could only form a guess from price current quotations as to the value of the article, it being absolutely necessary to see and examine, in order to ascertain the market value of any particular lot. The same remarks applied, and with equal force, to bale rope-there being about as many qualities of the article as there were manufactu-

The sale of Kentucky bagging has been materially interfered with by the India bagging, which being heavier and stronger, and generally sold something cheaper, has been preferred to the article heretofore made in this country, and has caused many of the owners of hand-loom factories in different parts of the country to close making both bagging and rope. The adaptation of machinery to the manufact ture of these articles has produced a great improvement in the appearance and quality of both chinery, Kentucky bagging is interfering with the sale of the Ludia article, which it rivals in is a new brand of excellent tobacco, named in weight, neatness, regularity of thickness, and strength, and the material being more valuable after it has served its original purpose in covering and protecting the cotton, it is preferred on that account by shippers. The quality of the rope made by machinery is also greatly improved, and machine made rope not only commands a higher price, but is preferred, at the advanced rate, to the hand spun article.

The quantity of bagging, rope and twine made in this city has not been satisfatorily ascertained, one manufacturer having declined to furnish us the statistics of his factory; and we are compelled to rely on limited data furnished us of his business last September. Our estimate is necessarily an approximate one, and is believed to be

The quantity of hemp consumed in the different factories in Louisville during the year, will not vary greatly from four thousand tons. Of this hemp, about six hundred tons is manufactured into bagging, producing about five thousand pieces of one hundred vards each. The residue is made principally into bale rope and twine, with considerable quantities of bed cord, plow lines, sash cords, &c.

At the present market prices for the manufac tured articles, their annual value would be about $700,000. The proprietors of the different factories sell their goods directly to parties in the cotton growing States, as well those bordering on the Mississippi river, as Alabama, Georgia, and South Carolina. They can sell readily all they produce, and anticipate that the completion of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad will create an additional demand from the Southeast ern Atlantic States, and enable them to compete more successfully with St. Louis for that important trade.

The bagging and rope manufactured in this city is considered equal in quality to any made elsewhere, and is sold to the planter on terms as favorable, and at prices as low, as it can be obtained from any manufactories in any other par

The supply of hemp is abundant, and easily obtained at the market rates. The quality of hemp sold in this market is not surpassed by that to be had at St. Louis, or any other point in the hemp growing States. The quantity of bagging and rope produced here will be shortly increased probably fifty per cent, as an energetic firm in the city are rapidly erecting a large establishment, which will soon go into operation, with new machinery, and be able to turn out annually a large amount of both articles We think we are safe in saying that the manufacturing of these staple articles in Louisville during the twelve months that will terminate on 1st Sept., 1860, will be fully one million dollars in amount.

The Seventh and Eighth Wards-Capt. Joyes, The Democratic ticket for Louisville and Jeferson county is complete, with the exception of the fourth legislative district, composed of the Seventh and Eighth wards. In this district we have no candidate for the Legislature.

It has been suggested, by a good many of the est citizens in these two wards, that Capt. Thos. Joyes shall be the Democratic candidate. We hink the suggestion a good one. Capt. Joves is an old citizen, who has grown up with the city, and whose memory extends over every important event of her history. He has the interests of Louisville at heart, and is one of our best, most enterprising, most esteemed, and most reliable citizens. Let him be the candidate, by universal consent, and he will contrast well with U. C. Serrill, a new-comer, who has not been in Louisville long enough to know the real wants of the city at large, or of the particular district he proposes to epresent in the next Legislature. Every man. oman and child in Louisville knows Capt. Joyes, and the mere announcement of his name is hough to secure for him the votes of all the good men in the two wards. The Southern Pacific Railroad.

A telegraphic dispatch from New Orleans, to he Messrs. Burkhardt, reached here yesterday, oringing glad tidings concerning the Southern Pacific Railroad. The State suit against the com. pany, for a forfeiture of its charter, will be dismissed by the District Attorney. This is in accordance with the article we pubshed yesterday from the New Orleans Picayune. All of our readers who examined that article nust have been convinced that the Stete suit would be dismissed. There was no cause for coninuing the prosecution, and of course the suit had to be abandoned.

Thus ends the treuble of this great enterprise. We are truly glad to announce the fact that the Southern Pacific Railroad will now be made. All squabbles and quarrels about it will at once cease. The work will go on to completion now, and when done, it will be the greatest railroad enter prise ever begun and carried out in this or any other country. It will make all the heavy stockholders rich who have not fooled away their stock. There is money enough in it for all concerned, and for twice as many more. We shall say more of the matter hereafter. The First District.

One of the most intelligent, active, and best posted politicians in the First District, in a business letter to us, dated Princeton, July 12th, adds the following as a postscript:

I notice a correspondent intimates that it will be a close race in this district between Burnett and Turner. Burnett will be elected by from 4,000 to 6,000 majority. They both addressed a large crowd here on the 12th inst., and both took nigh, bold, and unmistakable Southern grounds. agreeing with the Courier, Herald, &c., and the people here are with you, too, for when they referred to the question of protection to slavery by Congress, I never heard such applause. > STABBING AT PORTLAND .- Yesterday evening about 4 o'clock, a man by the name of McMullen was cut in two places by John Snyder, mate on the Oakland. The first wound was in the shoulder, and the second in the left part of the back, just below the shoulder blade. Both wounds are severe, but not dangerous. The origin of the difficulty was as follows: McMullen was employ ed as a fireman on the boat, but had been dis charged. He went to the boat vesterday evening and denounced the mate in violent terms. The latter wishing to avoid a difficulty with the man left and went aft of the boat, where he was met by McMullen, who had a stick drawn to strike him. The mate ordered him to lay down the stick, and he refused. The mate then drew his knife and inflicted the wounds as above stated.

LAWYERS OUTWITTED .- We mentioned that Chas. Wilson, alias Baldwin, was arrested here for forgery committed in New York, on Saturday, Some lawyers were preparing to affect his release by means of a habeas corpus, when three of the colice spirited him away. They took him from jail for the ostensible purpose of getting his pic ture to adorn the "Rogue's Gallery" collection and wisely concluded not to return him to jail where the lawyers could reach him, and the ends of justice be defeated. So, instead of conlucting him to a picture gallery, he was secreted in a safe place, and at the proper time sent off on the mail-boat. The lawyers were thus outwitted, and since his release would only have put affoat on the community another rascal, we see no reason to regret that their legal action lacked the essential element of success. A Boy's HAND TORN OFF BY THE BURSTING OF Gun.-George Bow, a boy thirteen years of age, who lives in that part of the city called Califor nia, lost his hand yesterday by the bursting of a shot gun. He purchased the gun yesterday morning, and loaded it up for the purpose of trying his new weapon. The first discharge the barrel exploded, tearing off the boy's thumb, and shattering his hand in the most shocking manner. Am putation was necessary, and the injured member was taken off half-way between the wrist and elbow, by Dr. Goldsmith, assisted by Drs. Griffith and Grant. The little fellow was doing as well as could be expected last evening. HE AXES HIM TO LEAVE .- An old man name Dorn celebrated the last Sabbath day by imbibing lager, and thereupon made himself disagreeable at the house of Henry Best, on Jefferson street, between Clay and Shelby. The latter endeavored ures, but, this effecting nothing, he tried force .-Dorn became furious at this, and, grabbing an axe, struck Best a severe blow in the back. He was taken to jail, but Best not appearing, he was

THE HOTTEST DAY OF THE SEASON-DRATHS FROM COUP DE SOLEIL .- The heat vesterday was intoler country and sold annually in this market. If we able from the rising of the sun until long after nightfall. A number of persons were prostrated manufactures of these articles, we shall find that from the effects of the heat, and several deaths occurred. At 10 c'clock the mercury marked 95; at 1 o'clock 98, and 99 at 2 o'clock. At 5 o'clock. P. M., it descended to 98, and at 9 o'clock last night it had gone down to 89. On the east side of Third street the thermometer showed the temper ature to be 103 degrees at 2 o'clock, and one that was exposed to the sun, in a few minutes traveled up to 123. The day was a scorcher, and decidedly the hottest of the year. There were four cases of sun stroke which proved fatal. Henry Rhenath, a German laborer. was a victim to it and intoxication. Coon Sommer, a cooper, who lived in the alley between second and Third, near Water street, died sudenly from the effect of a sun stroke.

Wm. Roein, an Irishman, recently from Philadelphia, died at his boarding house on Chapel street. He was taken ill on Saturday evening, and lingered until the time named. He was about 28 years old.

Mary Kearney, from sun stroke and whisk combined, came to her death last evening at the ouse of H. Oneil, on Water street. She had no nome, and Mrs. Oneil had taken care of her for

A man fell from his cart on Fifth street, be tween Main and Water yesterday, morning, and was taken into the house of Mrs. Riley apparently in a dying condition. Restoratives were apolied, and when he was taken home he was in a a fair way to recover. We could not learn his name. Besides these there was a case on Shelby street, and two in the Eighth Ward, of which we could learn no particulars.

A DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT .- At a late hour last night a man stepped into the fruit establishment of Mr. Botto, on Market street, between Second and Third, and bought five cents worth of cakes. He also inquired the price of a bottle of wine. Mr. Botto told him 75 cents. He wanted it at a cheaper price, and B. agreed to let him have it for 70 cents. A ten dollar bill on the Bank of Ashland was tendered in payment, and Botto, elieving it was counterfeit, pretended he had not the change, and went to a neighbor to get it. He went to a friend, from whom he ascertained positively that the bill was base. When he returned to his store the man had gone, crying to the lady who was in the store as he left that he would be back in a few minutes. The bill purports to be on the Bank of Ashland, is dated Aug. 1, 1857, No. 689, payable at Shelbyville, and signed Hugh Means, President, and E. W. Martin, Cashier. It is a tolerable imitation of the genuine, and calcuated to deceive those who are not good judges .-The man was about 40 years old, had on a black ool hat, and was plainly dressed. He will propably try to swindle others, and to prevent it we

An Exciting Chase.-Alfred, a negro waiter at Walker's Exchange, attempted to cut the bookkeeper with a knife, last evening, but the intererence of John Kollepph caused him to change his mind, and he fled through the front door and up street. Kollepph pursued him up Third street nd Market to Second street, through alleys to the Court House square, the negro fairly outstripping him in the race. John hallooed to Joe --- to stop that nigger," but Joseph did not think hat violent exercise would be healthful to his two hundred avordupois, so he looked on the retreating form of the darkey, but moved not. Several watchmen joined in the race on Jefferson street, and Alfred was finally captured on Green street, between Sixth and Seventh. Among the oursuers were Chief Ray, Dick Moore, and D. T. Bligh. They couldn't catch the negro, but for fat men they traveled well.

o-morrow morning. A NEW ENTERPRISE AND CONVENIENCE. - Omni ouses are becoming a feature in our city travel, and I. B. Walker, an enterprising and energetic man, proposes an enterprise which will be of great convenience. He will run an omnibus every hour on Fourth street, from the corner of Main ut to Cedar Hill, from 6 A. M. to 61% o'clock P. This will be a great convenience to merchants and others who live in that portion of the city as well as others whose business requires them t ourney towards the suburbs. The permanen tablishment of this line will enable many to eside in the suburbs, who are now deterred from that comfort on account of the distance. The Court of Appeals of Kentucky, in ase arising on a claim on the estate of Roger C. White, a native of Ireland, but a citizen of the United States, who died here in 1851, owning real estate in Newport, Ky., has decided that by the laws of Kentucky aliens cannot take lands by lescent, unless they have resided two years in the State next before the descent cast, and the party nust be fully naturalized—taking out the first aper. HUNTING A RACE .- Mr. E. Moore, the owner of he great trotting horse, Reindeer, has sent him Cincinnati, where he may find a foeman worthy of his steel-plates. He would have been natched against any trotter or pacer in Kenacky, but no one seemed to have a horse that ould put in a lick big enough to win.

PREACHING AT THE TENT .- The preaching tent n the corner of Hancock and Main streets, will be re-opened to night for religious services. The Rev. L. W. Allen, of Virginia, will preach. There will also be preaching in the tent every night

DEMOCRATIC MEETING .- The Democrats of the Third and Fourth Wards will meet at Capt. Brannon's office, over Dr. Nock's drug store, corner o Second and Market, on Wednesday evening, the 20th inst., at 8 o'clock. Turn out Democrats!

ARRESTED FOR FELONY .- James Chambers, a leged to be a fugitive from Shelby county, was committed to jail yesterday. It is said that he is wanted there to answer to the charge of felony

M. Jullien, the well-known chef d'orchestre, was arrested in Paris in May last for non-payment of a bill of exchange, but in order to obtain release from jail had himself declared a bankrupt. M. Delepierre, who holds the bill, opposed his discharge, on the ground that M. Jullien having been naturalized in England, could not avail himself of the French law. The prisoner pleaded that, as by the act of naturalization he could be neither a member of Parliament, a Minister of the Crown, nor a grand dignitary of the State he

BUINESS NOTICES.

We would all attention to Messrs. S. G. Henry & Co.'s sale, it auction rooms, commencing at 10 o'clock this morning. Several very desira ble lots of summer dry goods will be sold to close consignments. They vill also sell, at half-past 9 c'clock, in front of auction rooms, a very desirable pony, four years old, belonging to a gentleman residing in New York, and sold on account of departure of owner.

Mr. Spencer has just completed his alterations and imprevements in bit auction rooms, and we may safely say that he was now the finest fitted up and best arranged auction rooms in the city. His office is exquisitely west and convenient. He has built a vault, which is on a scale equal to many of our banking houses, and will prove a safe depository for all valuables being perfectly burglar and fire proof. His first sale of groceries, liquors, and sundries, takes place this morning. We refer our readers to his advertisement in this morning's paper.

Monday, Juy 18. A FELONY CASE.—The charge against Wm. McAfee, for obtaining a coat under false petences, with fraudulent motive, from J. F. Grifin, was concluded. H. Cummings, a salesman in the store of Griffin, stated that the accused came there a few days since, and got accatand a vest on the account of Mr. Fullenwiler. Peliceman Tiller said that the accused admitted to lim that he got the articles without authority, that he was drinking at the time, else he would not have days drinking at the time, else he would not have do orniking at the time, else he would not have done so, and would pay for the same when he made the money. The Judge thought the testimony sufficent to send the case to the Grand Jary. The bail was fixed at $400. Another charge against McAfee, for stealing a coat, was laid over.

DRUNKEN WOMEN.—Indian Ellen and Mary Hicks invited judicial notice for vulgar behavior and had conduct in an alley.

DRUNKEN WORKS.

Hicks invited judicial notice for vulgar behavior and bad conduct in an alley. The women were quarreling, and used the vilest language imaginable. They shock even the modesty of the most hardened sinners. Free negroes should behave themselves, and to make them do so, they were sent to the workhouse six months, in default of $200 bail each.

There had previously been a fuss between Catherine and another of the Kremers, which led to angry words between these defendants and the Welches. Phillips and Kremer, curiously enough, had each but one arm. They gave bonds in $200 each to keep the peace three months.

We have been favored with a private letter t e letter was written on the 3d inst., at Minatan, Tehnastepec, where the United States Miner, Mr. McLane, was paying a visit to the U. hat our Minister had failed to come to any proand creditable arrangement with the Juarez Government, as he had failed to obtain just satisfac tion from that of Miramon; that he felt uneasy in his position, and considered any further attempt at a peaceful solution of the Mexican question s; that in this sense he had plainly come at once to an understanding with the United States, a resort must be had to arms; and inaily, to sum up all, that as no proper response

We state these facts, as they come to us very directly, but not without misgivings as to their entire accuracy, inasmuch as we are left in doubt as to whether the writer reports directly a conversation had by himself with Mr. McLean, or only a popular version of what may have accidentaly fallen from his lips. In the meantime, how-ever, we await, not without impatience, the ar-rival of the next steamer from Vera Cruz, which will be due about the 12th instant. A curious circumstance has just happened to M. Aguado, whose talent in photography has given him a European celebrity. He laid a wager that he would so exactly imitate a French bank note that the difference should not be perceptible. the time appointed the note was ready, and side by side with the original upon the desk. Judge, jury, all were ready to seize the smallest indication which should lead them into the right guess. The gentleman who had laid the wager ook both notes in his hand to examine them in the strong light from the window. By some ac-cident he changed or shuffled them from one hand to the other, and when he returned them to the desk, neither M. Aguado himself nor any one of the company could tell which was the false note and which the true! There they lie still-two thousand-franc notes—and all connoisseurs are in-vited to give an opinion. Needless to say that the Banque de France has sent its most expert judges—but without effect.—Liverpool Paper.

[From the Philadelphia Bulletin.]

By the bark White Wing, which sailed from erto Cabello, July 1st, we have important news m Venezaela. The following letter describes the circumstances: "PUERFO CABELLO, June 28.—On the 15th of

"PURRYO CARBLLO, June 28,—On the 15th of this month, the negro population of the surrounding villages rose against this town, assassinating the Judge of the village, named Goignaza, most atrociously, cutting his body almost to pieces. They proceeded thence to the other villages, Moron, Borburata, and Patanemo, to increase their forces. Having collected their friends, they passed through the outer part of the city in the night, proclaiming assassination and plunder. In Borburata and Patanemo they brutally murdered Borburata and Patanemo they brutally murdered

On the night of the 17th, they advanced, in umber about 259, to attack this city. Fortunately, the event of the 15th had given warning to the population to prepare for such an attack. By the aid of two small guns, loaded with grape ot, the assailants were repulsed with the loss of

Since the 17th of June there have been several engagements between the troops and the negroes; but the latter slways retreat in among the bushes, from whence they can fire on our men safely. Within three days we have had one officer killed and two wounded, and several addies killed and and two wounded, and several soldiers killed and wounded. We live in constant uneasiness, being menaced continually with attacks. How long this state of things will last I cannot tell. Several columns of troops are in pursuit of the insurgents, but they fly to the woods as soon as they approach, and resume their ravages when they disappear. It is feared that if we relax our vigilance they will surprise the town, murder all they can, plunder the houses and afterward burn

DESTRUCTION OF AN AUSTRIAN STEAMBOAT AND Two Hundred Men .- The following is an extract from the letter of the Daily News' correspondent, dated June 21: The day before yesterday, one of the Austrian steamboats which ran on the Lake of Garda had started from the opposite bank with the object of reconnoitering Garibaldi's forces at Sale. As after the action of Virle it was thought prudent to strengthen the Cacciatori delle Alpi, a Piedmontese battery was sent there with two battallions of Fanti's division. They had just arrived when the Francis Joseph steamboat was ordered to steer to the Brescian side of the Garda. She therefore steamed in that direction; but at the moment she was entering the harbor of Sale, the Piedmontese battery opened its fire upon her. Our guns had been so well directed that two of their round shot soon destroyed her elegant stern. Of course this was the signal for a hasty retreat, but as she was about to turn her helm, a well-directed grenade fell on the middle of her deck. Two seconds afterward a tremenduous explosion was heard; the grenade had made its way into the magazine, and in less than five minutes the Francis Joseph was in flames. A distress signal was hoisted, but before the Benedek could be sent from Peschiera to help her crew, she sank in the midst of the lake. Not one of the two hundred men she had on board was saved; all of them perished, either burned to death by the flames, or drowned in the waters of the classic Benacus.

The French Field Telegraph.—A war cores-The day before yesterday, one THE FRENCH FIELD TELEGRAPH .- A war correspondent, dating from Brescia on the 24th of June, reports a fact which has not hitherto transpired. concerning the scientific appliances of electricity to war purposes. It would appear that the re-markable precision and unity of the French evolutions was accomplished by a quite novel sort of aid-de-camps. From each corps, once in a position, a horseman rode off to the next division, unrolla norseman roue of to the next division, unfoling on his rapid course a light wire, which no time was lost in adapting to a field apparatus; and the process was repeated all along the French line of 12 miles. Hence the movement of the whole army was known and regulated like clockwork, "from dawn to dewy eve," on that decisive day.—

This arrangement had been planned in Paris, and a supply of gutta percha covered thread forwarded with secrecy and dispatch. It has done its work, and the patent may now be disclosed. Portwork, and the patent may now be discussed. Fortable galvanism beats portable gas. It was already known to both armies that a special telegraphic corps operated in the rear of the Allies, and laid wires as fast as any advance was made. M. Lair is the first engineer, and the first Frenchman who entered Novara; while the Austrians were scarce yet out out of it, was M. Gauthier, of that staff, who set up his box and telegraphed the details of the retreating corps at the moment they were outside the gates. Lonate, Montechiaro and Castiglione, were in instant communication with Brescia and Milan when evacuated by the foe

THE WAR IN EUROPE.

[Special Dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette.] ENCH OFFICIAL REPORT OF THE BATTLE OF SALFERING BALTIMORE, July 16.— The French official report estimates the Austrian force at Safferho at 250,000 to 270,000 men. This immense force appeared to be divided into two armies. That on the right, according to notes found after the battle, on an Austrian officer, was to take possession of Lonato and Castiglione, and that on the left was to march on Montechiaro. The Austrians thought the whole Allied army had not yet crossed the Chiese, and their intention was to drive it back on the right bank of that river. right bank of that river.

All the corps of the Allied army being at the time on their march, at a somewhat considerable distance, one from the other, the Emperor, first of all, directed his attention to bringing them together, so they might mutually support each other. For that purpose his Majesty went immediately to Marshal the Duke de Magenta, who was on the right of the plain, and who had deployed perpendicularly to the road which leads from Castiglione to Goito.

As General Niel did not yet appear, his Majesty hastened the march of the cavalry of the Imperial cluard, and placed it un ier the orders of the Duke of Magents as a reserve to operate in the plain on the right of the second corps. The Empeiror, at the same time, sent orders to Marshal Canrobert to support General Niel, as much as possible, while commanding him to guard himself en the right against an Austrian corps, which according to Information given to His Majesty, was to advance from Mantua on Azola. These measures having been taken, the Emperor repaired to the heights in the center of the line of battle, where Marshal Baraguay D'Hilliers, too distant from the Sardinian army to be able to act in conjunction with it, had to struggle in very difficult ground against troops which were incessantly renewed.

The Marshal had arrived at the foot of the steep hill on which the village of raiferino is built. That village was defended by considerable forces, entrenched in an old chateau and a large cemetry both of which were surrounded by thick and crenelated walls.

The Marshal had already lest a great number of men, and had more than once exposed himself leading on the troops of Bazin's and L'Amrault's divisions. Worn out with fatigue and heat, and exposed to a heavy fire of muskery, these troops gained ground with much difficulty.

At this moment, the Emperor ordered Forey's divislastiglione to Goito.

The little hills chateau, and possessed themselves of it. The little hills near Sanferino, were successfully carried, and at 8½ o'clock, P. The share of the Imperial Guard, of this glorious trophy, was thirteen guns and one color. After describing the operations of the corps under Barasuay d'Hilliers, the report proceeds: At 2.30 o'clock, the Duke de Magenta assumed the offensive in his turn, and ordered General de la Motteruge, to advance on the side of Salferino, in order to carry San Cassiano and the other positions occupied by the enemy. The village was turned on both sides, and carried with irresistible vigor, by the Algerian rifiemen, and the forty-fifth. Valleggio: at all events, Valleggio was not exactly the place to choose for a night's rest, so following the example of the Imperial headquarters, I started from Valleggio and rode through Quaderon to Villafranca, where the Emperor had already a rived.

Dispositions were speedily made to guard the passage of the Minclo; the wandering soldiers were brought together on the road, and directed back on Villeggio. Batteries of position were moved so as to cover Borghetto, and the 5th corps was ordered to stand fast at Monzambano, where there is a bridge over the Minclo. It was night when I came on to Villafranca, where the first batches of the wounded were beginning to arrive.

At 6:30 o'clock, the enemy was retreating in all di-

At this moment, the 2d brigade of Gen. Cucchiart, which had been formed in columns of attack to the left of the Lugano road, marched against the Church of St. Martino, regained the low ground, and carried the hights for the fourth time without holding them; for, overwhelmed b volleys of grape, and facing an enemy who were constantly receiving reinforcements, it could not hold out till the arrival of succor from Gen. Mollard's 2d brigade; and the Picelmoniese being quite exhausted, retreated in good order along the Pirotiella road. It was then the Aosta brigade of Fanti's division, which had at first gene towards Salferino to form a road. It was then the Aosta brigade of Fanti's division, which had at first gone towards Salerino to form a junction with Marshal Baraguay d'Hilliers, was sent by the King to support Generals Modard and Cucchiari in the attack on San Martino. That body was checked for their ranks into confusion, and the Sardinian troops finally remained masters of the formidable positions which the enemy had defended for a whole day with

The Allies, as well as Austrians must re-assemble and re-arrange their army, when doubtless hostilities will be resumed. There are here 400 or 500 Piedmontese and some French prisoners. What the losses of this side may turn out to be, it is impossible as yet to state.—There cannot be less than 12,000 or 15,000 men hors de combat. No Generals are killed. Among the wounded are Count Pallfy, slightly, Gen. Philipovics, Gen. Baitin, and one or two others. Several Colonels and a number of officers are killed or wounded. Prince C. Windischgratz is dead, as well as Col. Mumm.
These facts suggest the reflection: How was to that These facts suggest the reflection: How was it that he French were ready at 6 o'clock to make a combined attack against the Austrians; who on their part had just taken up their position on the previous evening? ### TUESDAY, ......JULY 19, 1859. Reading Matter on Every Page.

Old Nick, the Old Boy and His Lord.

When we saw the long letters which Judge Robertson published in the Observer and Re. porter, and the comments of the Louisville Journal thereon, we attempted to point out the differ. ence between the Democracy and the Opposition on the question of Congressional protection to slavery in the Territories. Knowing that the "Old Boy" of the Journal, as well as "his Lord" and "Old Nick," were Missouri Compromise men, it seemed to us that their joint efforts had committed the Opposition, as far as they could, to the doctrine of Congress protecting slavery in the organic act south of 86° 80', and leaving it uppro tected north of that line. We certainly did not mean to misrepresent either of the parties in this matter, but as certainly shall we not relieve either of them from the position in which we have placed them until we have it in words right to the point. from each and all of them, that we have misap prehended their views.

As to Judge Nicholas, we know we have not misrepresented him. In a letter published by that gentleman in the Journal, July 1st, he spoke of himself and Judge Robertson having discussed this matter in the committee room where the Opposition platform was fixed up. In that letter Judge Nicholas uses the following language: Judge Robertson and myself had not only vindicated the power of Congress to settle the ques tion of slavery in the Territories, but I had gone further, and insisted upon it as an important duty of Congress to interfere, and either establish or prohibit slavery at the initiation of every territo-rial government, according to the latitude or cli mate of the Territory, thereby precluding all after agitation of the subject by squatter soverigns, and enabling emigrants to know beforehand what they had to depend upon in reference to it. What, then, does Judge Nicholas mean by "ac cording to the latitude or climate," if he does not mean that Congress shall, in the organic act, protect slavery south of 36 deg. 30 min., or some other seographical line, while the rights of South erners are to be left unprotected north of that line? If Judge Nicholas meant anything else, he so fine a scholar and so sensible a man to express his ideas. He means just what we said he meant. and nothing more nor less than that.

We have not the two letters of Judge Robert son before us, and have not time nor strength to read them over carefully this hot weather, even if we had them. We can't say, therefore, that Judge Robertson stands up to Judge Nicholas as to the geographical line, and it may be that he does not. We do remember, however, that the one sustains the other fully on the question of protection in the organic act. Here is what Judge Robertson says on that subject:

After repealing the Kansas license to "squatter sovereignty," let the organic act for every Territory hereafter organized provide that no discriminating burden shall be imposed on slave property; that every citizen of every State in the Union hall have an equal right to settle in the Territory, and carry with him any moveable which is his property by the law of the State from which he emigrates; and that any law which affords otection to other moveable property shall nally apply to slaves - whatever the Territorial egislature may do or not do.

And the Louisville Journal, on the 9th of this nonth, indorsed the above from the pen of Judge Robertson. The "Old Boy," of the Journal, indorsed what "his Lord" said on this subject, although he had repudiated the same thing when said by "Old Nick," This, however, does not amount to anything, for the "Old Boy" can pitch into "Old Nick" when he pleases, and then pitch intelligence of the looks of things, politically, in out again when it suits-especially can he pitch in or out at the command of "his Lord."

We repeat it, then, as our belief, that the Louisville Journal, the organ of the Opposition and Judges Robertson and Nicholas, the right and left bowers of the Opposition, if they are really for protection at all, are in favor of Congress protecting slavery in the Territories south of 36 deg. 30 min., and not for protecting it north of that line. And they are, moreover, in favor of this protection being fixed up in the organic act establishing each Territorial government. We shall certainly not change our belief without a pointed and ample denial from each of the parties, and even then we shall exercise the privilege of believing or not, according to the character of the party denying our charge.

And upon this question of protection in the organic act, there is a wide difference between the Opposition who take that view, and the Democracy. All sound Democrats agree with the Hon Linn Boyd, in his clear exposition of this subect, that Congress shall only exercise its power to protect when the Territorial Legislature refuses and the courts fail to grant adequate protection. In other words, the Democracy will not insist upon Congress taking action in this matter until official information is laid before the National Leg slature, that its action is necessary in the premises. Our opinion is that this necessity will arise at no distant day, for we have not the confidence of some in the protection now afforded by fugitive slave laws, common law remedies, and courts; but sufficient unto the day is the evil

The Journal's Pro-Slavery Men.

The "old boy" of the Louisville Journal has queer notions of the true friends of the South. His opinions on the subject are as strange as his advocacy of protection to slavery in the Territories, while his record shows that he has opposed the existence of slavery both in State and Ter-

This "old boy" of the Journal don't think the Hon. James Guthrie is sound on the slavery question. But, as every man, woman and coild in Kentucky has been forced by circumstances admitting of no doubt, to know that Mr. Guthrie is a sound pro-slavery man, it may be necessary to inquire what this "old boy's" idea of a sound pro-slavery man may be. This is easily done and to do it we need not go beyond the present

Opposition ticket in Kentucky. The "old boy" of the Journal thinks the Hon. Joshua F. Bell is a sound pro-slavery man. And vet Mr. Bell used all of his powers to secure the re-election of Aylett Buckner to Congress, when he knew that while Buckner was in Congress he did not object to engrafting the Wilmot proviso upon a bill establishing a Territorial Government fer Utah and New Mexico. Mr. Buckner spoke as follows on the subject: as follows on the subject:

"Taking into consideration all the circumstances of the controversy, I believe it would be expedient in the members of Congress from the slave States to a ree to the establishment of a Government with a clause prohibiting slavery. By so doing they sacrifice no interest, concede no principle, nor abandon any rights belonging to the slave States."

But worse than this, the "old boy" of the Journal thinks the Hon. Green Adams, the Opposiis no man who can show a purer record on the of distiffebil)

> the "old boy" of the Journal drew some of his ideas of the pure Southern record he attributes to Mr. Adams. From that speech we make the following extracts: I am not disposed to maintain that slavery in the abstract is right, when tested by the great principle of right and wrong; nor will I contend that slavery, relatively speaking, is right or ex-redient

While the Hon. Green Adams was in Con-

I will not vote to strike out from this bill (th

Oregon bill, with the Wilmot Proviso engrafted upon it,) that section containing the provisions of the ordinance of 1787. I trust and hope that he (the President) will not veto a bill containing the Wilmot Proviso. * *

* 71 1 * 71 4 I utterly repudiate this doctrine of a man's carrying the civil institutions of his own country into whatever State, Territory, or country he may go. It is subversive of the just and necessary rules of international law, upon which the comity of nations is based. Who, sir, will deny the doctrine of international law, upon which the comity of nations is based. trine of international law, that when a person emigrates from one country to another, or even takes up a temporary residence, that, of justice and necessity, he must be obedient to the laws and institutions of the country in which he is re-siding at the time and from which he expects

After this indorsement by the "old boy" of the Journal of the pure slavery record of Mr. Acams, the friends of Mr. Guthrie will deem that gentleman lucky in not being indorsed by the Journal on the slavery question. We know that Mr. Guthrie is sound on the slavery question, but we should doubt even this palpable truth if it were conceded by the "old boy" of the Journal.

The Democracy on Protection.

Whilst one portion of the Democracy denies the duty of Congress to protect slavery in the Territories and another portion asserts the duty, both alike declare that Congress shall not, in fact protect it. They are in favor of absolute non-intervention. This is the position of the Democracy.—Lou. Journal.

The above is from the Louisville Journal of resterday. It is, to say the least of it, an out rageous misrepresentation of Democratic sent ment. In reply to such a reckless, trutbless, unjus uncalled for and outrageous asssertion, it is only necessary to give some of the resolutions adopted by the largest Democratic meetings ever held in different districts in this State .. In the Ninth District, where there are from seven to ten thousand Democratic voters, there was a large convention held on the 28th of May last, which adopted the following resolution:

5th. That we hold, in accordance with the decision of the Spreme Court of the United Saies, and our own convictions of right and justice, that the Constitution tives Congress the power, and imposes upon it the duty o protect al. kinds of property in the Territories of the Janes States, property in slaves includes; and should the Territoria. Leaslatures refuse or fail to afford proection to slave property, in common with o her party, or should, from any cause, such property urther protection, it will be the imperative bounces out of Congress to supply i, and this duty should be discharged promptly and efficiently.

And in the 10th, where there are still more Democratic voters, the largest convention ever held in that district, met June the 7th, and adopted the following resolution:

ted the following resolution:

Tih. That the Territories are the common property of these S ates, held in trust by the general Government for their equal use; that the citizens of all the States have a right to emigrate to and settle in said Territories with every species if property, and that they are protected in their persons and property in such Territories by the Constitution and lews of the United States, as expounded by the Supreme Court in the Bred cout decision, and such citizens in such Territories have a guarante-d right to demand of the general Government as the common trusive of all the States, the means of safety and protection to their persons and property whenever the exigency shall require it.

We might adduce numerous county persolutions

We might adduce numerous county resolutions to the same effect, adopted by the Democracy, but it is unnecessary. We will only add what the two leaders of the Democratic ticket have said on this subject.

The Hon. Beriah Magoffin, the Democratic can hdate for Governor, has written out the following as his platform on the protection question, and given it to the press in his own words:

That Congress has the power to protest while it cannot prohib to avery in the Territories; that the Territorial Legisture, as its agent, cannot exclude or abouish slatery, directly or indirectly, by unfide dividential and the statement of the s rial Legi lature, as its agent, cannot exclude or aboish statery, directly or indirectly, by unfriendly legislation; that such legislat in its void, and would be declared unconstitutional by the Federal courts; that it is the duty of the Territorial Legislature to protect slave property, and property of all kinds; that the rights of property of all kinds are under the protection of the government, the Constitution, and the laws; that our rights and remedies seem to be now complete in the Territories, and nothing has occurred to show their inadequacy; that the Democratic party has brought us to this position of safety against all the efforts of the Opposition, carerialning different opinions on the subject, and forming combinations to destroy it; that the strugges and victories over other parties have clearly shown that our is the only party capable of protecting our rights, or guarding them in the nuture; and if it should be necessary to pass laws to enforce the decrees of the judiciary, or even to call out troops, that it would be the duty of the government to doso."

And the Hon. Linn Boyd, the Democratic canidate for Lieutenant Governor, whose Democracy none will question, and whose strength as the eader of a mighty party in Kentucky none will doubt, has written and given to the press the fol-

By the legislation of Congress, it is clearly the right and duty of the Territorial Legislature to give adequate protection to the persons and property (slaves included) in the Perrit ries, and I carneally and most confidently hope that the duty will be so performed, as that no oc casion will ever a use for an appeal to Congress on that suij ct. If, however, doomed to disappointment in this confident hope, and from bad faith on the part of the people of the Territories, the rights of slaveholders should be disr garded and outraged, I trust that very few will be found to deny that to Congress belongs the power and the duty to offer just protection.

A reliable correspondent writing us from Simpsonville, July 16th, gives the following cheering that county. There is no doubt but that Holt is making many new friends at every place he speaks, and that with a reasonable effort here his success is certain:

Holt and Mallory have just finished a thorough canvass of this county, having each made nine regular speeches. Holt, by his gallant bearing, his able and earnest defense of true Democratic principles, has left a most favorable impression on the minds of the people. Mallory, on the contrary, notwithstanding he sweated profus ly and spent his gas liberally, has made a most signal failure, leaving the faces of his partizans much longer and sadder than he found them. This is owing, in part at least to the fact that he falls. men, that if you, of the city, and our party in the other counties of this district, will but give as good an account on the first Monday in August, as we of old Shelby will, "the burnt district" will be "regenerated, disenthralled, redeemed."

Stories are rife, indicating the heartiness of Lord Palmerston's sympathy with the Sardinians. Among others, this: "Sir Richard Bethell was talking with His Lordship at Cambridge House last Saturday night of the telegram announcing the Austrian defeat of Cavriana. 'I am afraid,' said Lord Paimerston, 'our side have suffered a very heavy loss.' 'Our side' said Sir Richard, with a nisi prias lift of his eyebrows, 'I was not aware we had any troops engaged.'"

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION being primarily and essentially due to a disordered nutrition, can be rationally attacked only by a medicine which repovates the nutritive powers. Such a medicine is the Peruvian Syrup, whose chief ingredient acts directly and immediately on the blood, and arrests the disease safely and surely.

BALTIMORE, July 15, 1854. I was suffering with a severe Catarrhal Cough, ccompanied by Night Sweats, Lass of Appetite, and great Debility, which daily in easing.
In this state I commenced to get Peruvian Syrup. The business of manufacturing spurious gins, and offering them as beverages, under the titles, "Aromatic,"-" Cordial,"-" Medicated," etc., has become so common, that the public are justly suspicious of nearly everything that is offered under similar forms, and the trade has thus been brought into disrepute It has remained for our house (established in 1778) to supply the pressing popular need, and to inaugurate a new era in the history of the Trade. We trust that our established reputation - founded upon eighty years of experience - abundantly vindicates our claim to public confidence. A comparison of "Bininger's Old London Dock Gin" with others bearing similar names, will establish its superiority, and make other Caution unnecessary. Put up in QUART BOTTLES, in Cases of one and two dozen each, and sold through-
